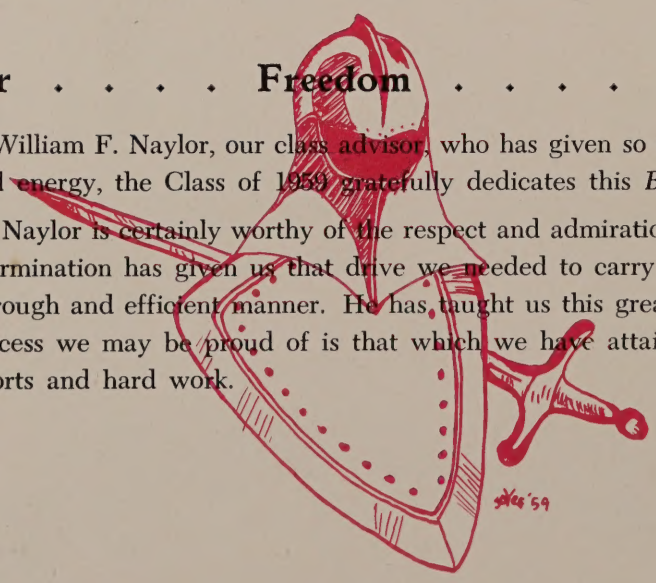
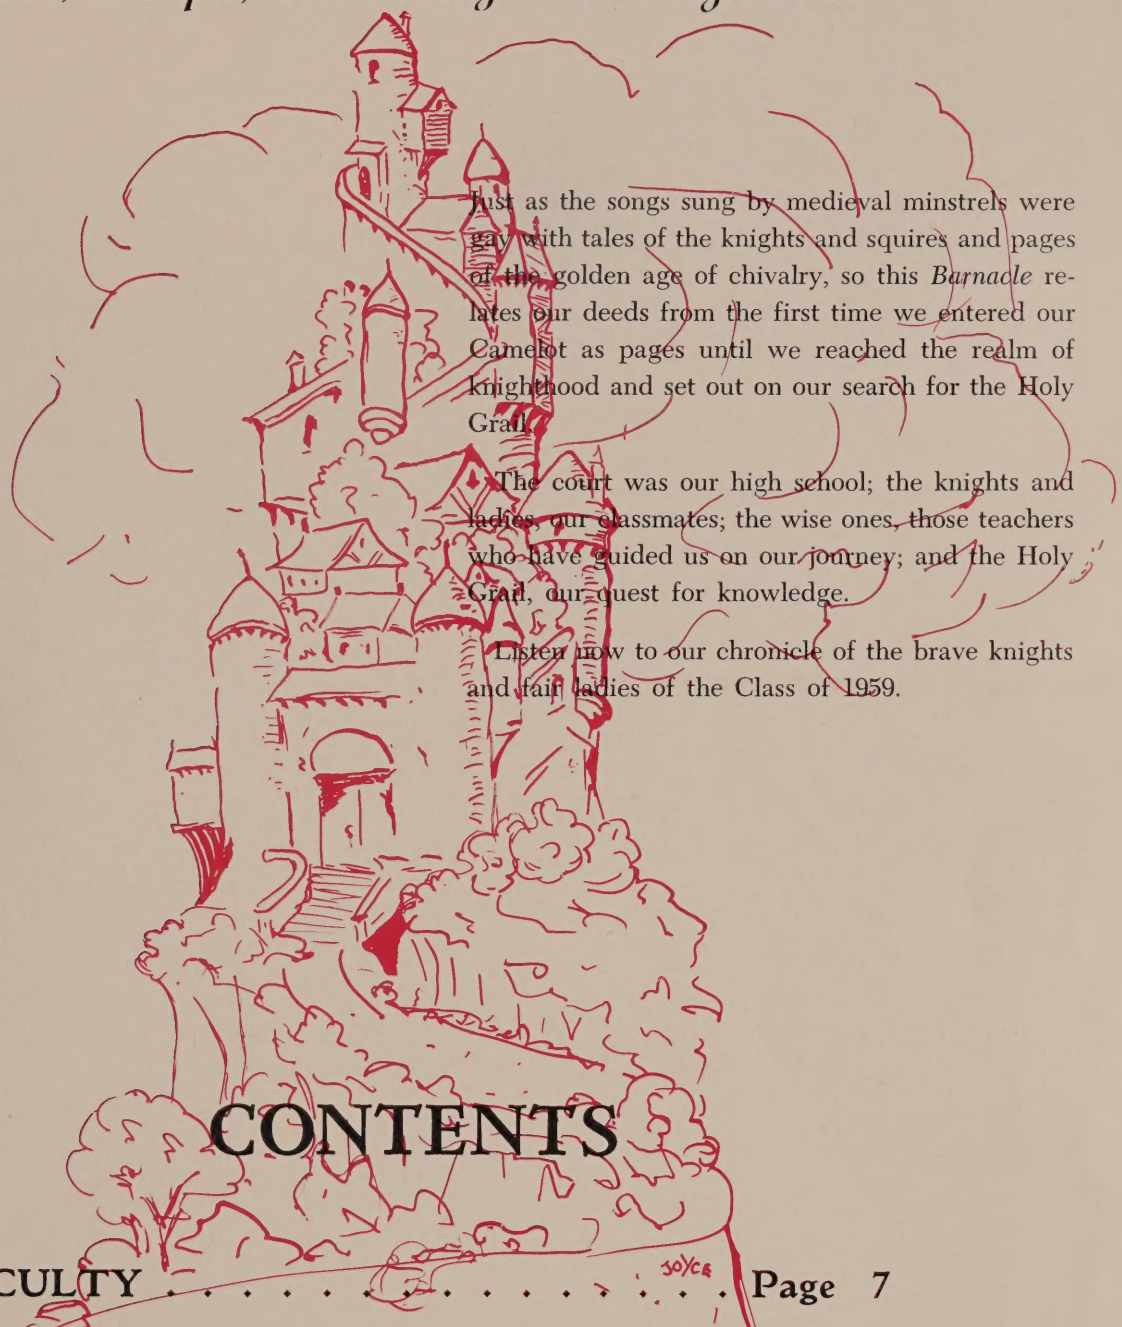
To Mr. William F. Naylor, our class advisor, who has given so unselfishly of his time and energy, the Class of 1959 gratefully dedicates this Barnacle.

Mr. Naylor is certainly worthy of the respect and admiration he has gained. His determination has given us that drive we needed to carry out our projects in a thorough and efficient manner. He has taught us this great truth—that the only success we may be proud of is that which we have attained through our own efforts and hard work.



"Blow, trumpet, blow through the living world!"



Just as the songs sung by medieval minstrels were gay with tales of the knights and squires and pages of the golden age of chivalry, so this Barnacle relates our deeds from the first time we entered our Camelot as pages until we reached the realm of knighthood and set out on our search for the Holy Grail.

The court was our high school; the knights and ladies, our classmates; the wise ones, those teachers who have guided us on our journey; and the Holy Grail, our quest for knowledge.

Listen now to our chronicle of the brave knights and fair ladies of the Class of 1959.

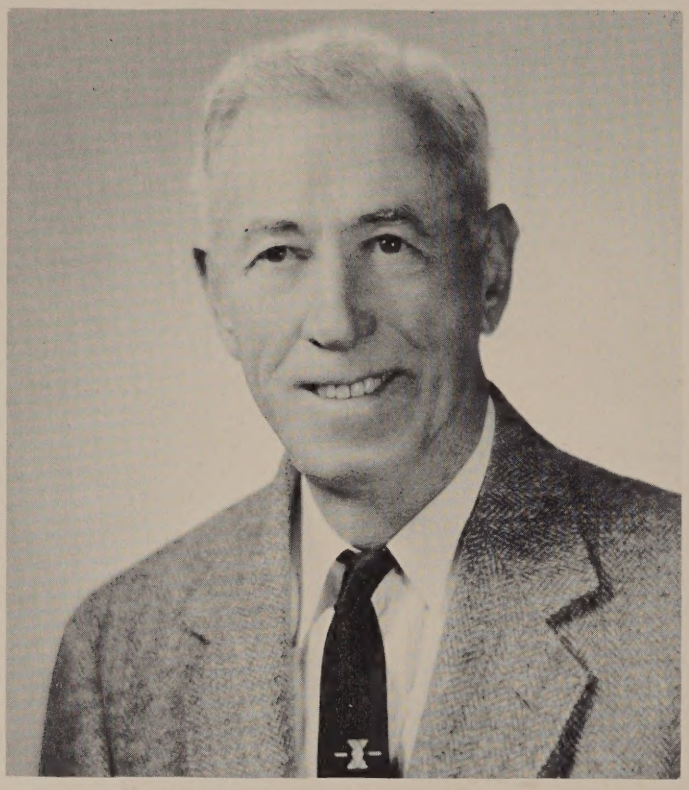
Bon Voyage To...



Mr. Elno C. Mott

After many years in the Barnstable school system as a boatbuilding instructor, Mr. Mott is retiring from active teaching.

He began his career as a teacher at the Crosby Yacht Building Company in Osterville where he was employed as an instructor to boys desiring to learn the trade. He continued during the war when the government took over much of the Crosby firm for extensive use by the Navy.

After the war Mr. Mott was placed in charge of the boatbuilding shop at the old high school, and, following this, at the new Barnstable Trade School.

We wish him bright skies and fair weather for many days of happy sailing.

Class of 1959
Barnstable High School
Hyannis, Massachusetts

Dear Graduates:

My congratulations to the Class of 1959 on their graduation from Barnstable High School. Many of you have been in the Barnstable Public Schools for 12 years; others for a shorter period of time. It is my hope that no matter what length of time you have been in our school system that it has been a profitable experience for you.

The fact that you have completed a high school education indicates that you realize the value of such training. It is important, however, that you realize that your education has just begun. Formal education for some of you may be at an end; others will seek higher education.

Whether your formal education is to be continued or not, it is my earnest hope that the Barnstable Public Schools have created an awareness of the importance of education and stimulated a desire to continue learning throughout your life.

Very truly yours,

Harvard H. Broadbent

This is the Omega and the Alpha, the end and the beginning. The end of your public school education, and the beginning of a new way of living. The end of a planned schedule of activities, long vacations, and the daily companionship of your friends and classmates. The beginning for some of work in their chosen vocations, for others service with the Armed Forces, and for still others continuation of their formal education in advanced schools and colleges.

In all these situations you will acquire more independence, and choice of action than you have had heretofore. This freedom also carries with it more responsibilities. In a large measure your decisions will be your own.

The aims and purposes of your high school education have been to help and assist you in achieving your goals, making wise decisions, and to enable you to live a well-balanced life. Your achievements will be a reflection on how well you have been taught and how well you have learned.

My sincere best wishes to all of you for continued success.

Mr. Frederick M. Hodge

As Director of Curriculum, Mr. Hodge has helped us, the Class of 1959, in innumerable ways. He has been not only a wise advisor and understanding counsellor, but a good friend to all of us. His genial personality is a great asset to him in his constant dealings with youth, and we are extremely grateful to have had his guidance and friendship.

Mrs. Catherine D. Towey

We wish to show our appreciation to Mrs. Catherine D. Towey, the faculty advisor for the 1959 Barnacle, who has devoted a large amount of her time to assisting us in the production of this yearbook. In compiling this record of our high school years, her journalistic experience, her unfailing sense of humor, and her unselfish interest in our class have been an invaluable help to us.

The Barnstable High School Chronicle

In the days of long ago when knighthood was in flower, many went in search of the Holy Grail. To them it was a goal—a light at the end of the darkness.

And so we, the class of 1959, have been striving to reach our goal—graduation. Our way, like that of the knights, was difficult, with many obstacles to be conquered.

For years we had been the obedient pages. Upon entering high school, we would prepare ourselves for a time. Then four years hence, we would be the leaders. As such, we could then set our lamp in the darkness for others to follow.

In September 1955 having crossed the moat of elementary school and scaled the wall of junior high, the drawbridge lowered to allow us, the squires, to enter into the castle of knowledge, where we were to spend our next four years training ourselves for knighthood.

As pages we had only been permitted to participate in band, orchestra, and the '59 Club, but gaining with our freshman year the title of squire, we were now allowed to choose our own courses and to participate in Junior Varsity Sports. During the year we took our first Iowa Tests.

Our big class project that year, the Freshman Frolic, was a success under the guidance of Mr. Rodman T. Small, our class advisor. Field hockey was added as a Varsity Sport that year, under the direction of Miss Katherine Nehubian.

During our sophomore year, with Mr. Small again our advisor, we held our class elections. George Williams was elected president; Gordon Nelson, vice-president; Sally Holmes, secretary; and Brenda Atwood, treasurer. Judy Askew and Craig Hopkins were elected to our Student Council. Three of our classmates were selected for membership in the National Honor Society. They were Brenda Atwood, Barbara Barnard, and Gordon Nelson.

That year, the Chess Club was formed under the direction of Mr. Vernon Coleman.

Our class dance was the Sophomore Hop, at which Roger Gott's orchestra provided the music. Chosen king was Craig Hopkins, with Mary Louise Savery reigning as queen in the "Alice in Wonderland" theme.

Our junior year was filled with many great accomplishments. We started the year by moving into the new school. We received our class rings, signifying that knighthood was now within our reach.

With Mr. William F. Naylor as our class advisor, we elected Leonard Duchesney, president; Craig Hopkins, vice-president; Sally Holmes, secretary; and Judy Barrows, treasurer. Judy Askew, Leonard Duchesney, and Peter Larkin were chosen to represent our class in the Student Council.

During that year, Miss Amelia Leconte organized the French Club. The Dramatic Club was also formed. Judy Askew, Brenda Atwood, Barbara Barnard, Sally Holmes, Sandra Hirsch, Maureen Linehan, Marjorie Montgomery, Nancy Stiles, and Linda Wolsieffer gained charter membership in the newly organized Code Club which had Miss Joyce Haggerty as its advisor.

Judy Askew and Linda Wolsieffer were named Key Club "Sweethearts." Marjorie Montgomery, Mirja Perkko, and Susan Stein were named for election to the National Honor Society. That year we sent Barbara Barnard as our representative to Girls' State and Gordon Nelson and Charles Converse to Boys' State.

The biggest undertaking of the year was, of course, the Junior Prom, with "Japanese Springtime" as its theme. Linda Wolsieffer was chosen queen with Brenda Atwood, Rosalie DeGrace, Patricia Lovejoy, and Susan Stein as her court. Roger Gott's orchestra provided music for dancing.

The money-raising projects for that year were the sale of fudge and the Hyannis and Osterville cake sales. We also held the "Berry Bop."

Finally, in September 1958, we reached the pinnacle in our years of training—soon we would become knights. Mr. Naylor again became our class advisor as we elected Stephen Lahteine, president; Peter Stringer, vice-president; Sally Holmes, secretary; and Nancy Stiles, treasurer. Judy Askew was voted president of the Student Council, with Leonard Duchesney, Peter Larkin, and George Williams as senior representatives of the Council.

New senior Code Club members were Jay Braxton, Katherine Nese, Mirja Perkko, and Susan Stein. The Varsity Club was formed under the direction of Mr. W. Leo Shields.

The senior class play, "Bull in a China Shop," was presented under the direction of Elliott MacSwan. Miss Katherine Nehubian directed the Senior Variety Show. Other projects were the selling of ads for the football programs, the concession committee at the football and varsity basketball games, the magazine campaign under Miss M. Louise Hayden, and also the presentation of "Platter Party" over radio station WOCB.

Under the direction of Mrs. Catherine D. Towey, and with aid of its two co-editors Marjorie Montgomery and Linda Wolsieffer, the Barnacle was brought to print.

Louise Whiteley was elected to represent our school in Student Government Day in Boston, and Judy Askew received the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award.

Our training has been long and hard, but now we are ready as knights to champion our ideals as we face the world with fresh hope and determination.

The Bequest of The Class of 1959

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new; And God fulfills himself in many ways."

We, the Class of 1959, entered Barnstable High School as lowly pages; as our proficiency grew, we became squires; finally, as we learned to endure all hardships, we entered the realm of knighthood.

We, being of sound collective mind, do bequeath our fortress to the junior class, that they may well learn the privileges and duties of true knights and ladies. May it be hereby resolved that:

Rennie Adams leaves his tarnished little car to anyone who wants a tarnished little car.

Virginia Alvin wills Barnstable High School to Gillette, Abbie, Mark, and Whit.

Joyce Arlington leaves Mr. Connor's news to next year's journalists.

Judy Askew bequeaths her many wanderings to Terry Bowes.

Brenda Atwood wills her paint brushes to John Higgins.

Maureen Aylmer leaves her long, curly eyelashes to Susie Howes.

Virginia Baker bequeaths her tireless gymnastic antics to Anna Houle.

Barbara Barnard leaves her grand slams to Jan Cook.

Warren Baxter leaves us to join those lucky Marines.

Anne Beldan wills her dulcet tones to Betsy Cabral.

Jay Braxton leaves her tricky dance steps to Carolyn Cook.

Peter Brune leaves injuries sustained in the line of duty to Danny Hostetter.

Linda Cayouette wills her endless supply of happiness to Janet Murphy.

STEPHEN GLEN LAHTEINE

"Mirth, with thee I mean to live"

As popular as he is dependable, our merry class president has distinguished himself not only as a tireless worker, but as a jovial companion to all he meets. What would our class be without Steve's cheerful smile and his invariable good sense to lead us through our senior year? What would any party be without Steve's effervescent humor and gay spirits to enliven it? Our light-hearted friend excells in music—he is a member of the chorus, a disc jockey on Barnstable High School Platter Party, and a lover of progressive jazz. After graduation, Steve plans to join the United States Navy —a very lucky outfit.

PETER HERBERT STRINGER

"I go my measured way—serene, unruffled and unhurried."

Sports are the main love of our vice-president, Peter, who has been active in football and track. This however, is not the only interest of Peter's for he has been a member of the Key Club the last three years and has worked on many committees. Peter, as you can see, is an active member of our class. Often silent at times of discussion, he is one who thinks and then acts —a quality admired by many of his classmates. Always serene and untroubled, Peter walks with an air of casualness. Wherever he goes, he brings with him a quiet strength which can bring the order and serenity often needed in everyday situations.

OFFICERS OF 1959

NANCY STILES

"My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky."

If you need a friend—one that is dependable, trustworthy, and always sincerely willing to hear your problems—just look for Nancy. Her invariable common sense and her uncanny intuition are the envy of all her companions. When Nance makes a decision, it's always a wise one! When Nance predicts something, it's bound to happen! A capable leader, she is treasurer of both the senior class and the Code Club, and has been an efficient Worthy Advisor in Rainbow. Nancy enjoys knitting, sports and most any activity that's full of fun. After college, she plans to enter the field of retailing.

the class of 1959,

SALLY CROCKER HOLMES

"Those who have the most to do, and are willing to work, will find the most time."

If you look back through Sally's record, you will find that she has worked on nearly all the committees, joined many clubs, and has used her business knowledge to aid her class to an unusual extent. Sally has been class secretary for three years, an office which keeps her busy doing all the correspondence for the class and all those "little" projects. Although she is usually working on several projects, "Sal" still has time to be cheerful and gay and never fails to say a bright "Hi" to everyone she meets. After graduation Sally intends to work in the office at Buttner's.

RENFORD LOUIS ADAMS

"An affable and courteous gentleman"

Rennie's the type of young man a teenage girl really goes for. Tall, dark, and handsome, he has a genial personality which has brought him a wide circle of friends. His athletic ability has been shown both in his expert hockey playing and his adeptness on the baseball diamond. He plans to enter the Navy after graduation.

Hockey 3,4; Baseball 3.

VIRGINIA ALVIN

"Where could be found a face lovelier?"

Ginny's light-hearted giggle has brightened many a dull day. Her participation in Field Hockey, Dramatic Club and the Barnacle Literary Staff have demonstrated her versatility. Ginny is one of those rare, refreshing personalities who firmly stands by all her beliefs. Her sound suggestions and bright new ideas have added a great deal to the success of class projects. Ginny's versatility was one of the big factors in making our class play a success.

JOYCE ELINOR ARLINGTON

"Honest labor bears a lovely face."

The "joy" in Joyce's name suggests her bright outlook on life. She always has an encouraging word for her many friends and displays an active diligence in all she undertakes. Because of her initiative a Dramatic Club was formed last year and made a success. Joyce, a member of the hard-working Concession Committee, often sacrifices watching an exciting game to earn money for the class in this capacity. Yes, "Joy" is certainly the most appropriate name for this lively Osterville miss.

JUDITH ASKEW

"To love, and to be loved, is the greatest happiness of existence."

A gaily wrapped bundle of cheer—that's our Judy—a package containing the warm and outgoing personality which has made her the most popular girl in our class. As president of both the Student Council and Code Club Judy demonstrates her vigor and ability, and overcomes the problems of responsibility by blithely carrying out her duties. Her sunny smile and sincere manner tie together to make Judy as pert and pretty a parcel as we'd ever hope to see.

"The fairest garden in her looks, and in her mind the wisest looks."

Can't find Brenda? Try the art room, for this is where she spends much of her time, either planning decorations for a current dance or just sketching. The "A" in her name stands not only for artistic achievement, but for ambition—she plans to attend Massachusetts School of Art—and amiability—try to count her many friends! Her discerning sense of humor and glowing personality will be packed with her when she leaves for college next fall.

MAUREEN JOSEPHINE AYLMER

"A bit of seriousness mixed with a bit of fun."

Take one cheery face and two laughing eyes and stir in a cupful of ability and interest in athletics. To this add a tablespoon of friendliness and season with a pinch of fun and mix well. Blend in a little seriousness, a teaspoon of patience and, for flavor, a dash of just-plain-niceness. When well mixed, top with glossy black hair, and if this special recipe is followed very carefully, the result will be Maureen.

VIRGINIA MARY BAKER

"Merriment was her closest companion."

With a cheery remark and a beaming smile, Ginny is a pleasant addition to any group. When she's not busy at her favorite subject, office practice, you may well find her bowling or skating, or enjoying the latest movie. Though she is not sure of what the immediate future has in store, Ginny believes she will probably do secretarial work.

BARBARA ANN BARNARD

"Sport that wrinkled Care derides,
And Laughter holding both his sides."

Whatever our versatile Barbara does, she does well. Sports is her world, and she excells in all—basketball, softball, field hockey, and bowling. Barbara is equally proficient in her school work, as shown by her constant high marks. Music also catches the fancy of our exuberant classmate, a member of the chorus. Barbara is an asset to any group she's with and her laugh and thoughtful kindness have brought her many friends.

ANNE ELIZABETH BELDAN

"Heaven in sunshine will requite the kind."

Who's the girl so amiable and sweet? Who's the girl so gentle and neat? Who's the girl so thoughtful and true? Future elementary teacher Anne Beldan, that's who. History-loving Anne likes sports and is a very active member of her church. She teaches Sunday School, sings in the choir, and is a member of the Church Youth Fellowship. Serenity and quiet charm will always follow Anne wherever she may go.

Chorus 3,4; Bowling 3,4; Baseball 1,2.

JAY ILENE BRAXTON

"The soul that perpetually overflows with kindness and sympathy will always be cheerful."

By her gentle personality Jay creates an aura of warmth and kindness wherever she goes. Never one to speak out of turn, her quiet manner, nevertheless, commands respect for her original ideas. Jay loves to sing and dance, and her sweet rendition of "Walking in the Rain," which she sang in the Variety Show, will long be remembered. She plans to be a singer in the future.

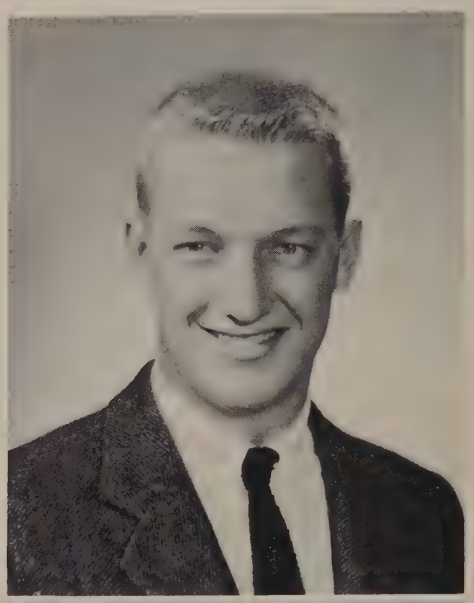
Barnstable High: Barnacle Typing Staff 4; Pep Club 3; Basketball 2,3.



PETER LANG BRUNE

"His limbs were cast in manly mold, for hardy sports or contest bold."

Think of Peter, and you think of sports. This senior has performed outstandingly in football and basketball for most of his high school life. Always casual, never in a hurry, and forever radiating warm good humor, Peter is one of our most popular classmates. His favorite pastimes are reading war novels and watching adult westerns on television. On the scholastic side, he best likes mathematics, a subject in which he is especially talented.

LINDA EMILY CAYOUETTE

"A lot of chatter and a bundle of cheerfulness."

Always laughing and smiling, Lin walks as if she had the world on a string. She can be found cheering the loudest at football games or busily dishing out hotdogs at the concession stand. A petite figure, she stands about five feet one inch, but you couldn't find more vim and vigor in a six footer. Her springy step and affable manner seem to drive away trouble and encourage happiness.

CAROL ANNE CHAPMAN

"Mark when she smiles with amiable cheer."

A member of both the typing and advertising staffs of the Barnacle, Carol has done much to aid our class. A willing worker, she can always be depended upon to do her share in selling our yearbook ads. Her genial personality has made her well-liked by both students and teachers, and her friendly smile and cheerful attitude will always enable her to find the bright side of whatever she does.

JUDITH ALLEN CHASE

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Vivacious Judie is usually found in the midst of some laughing group of merry-makers. She loves fun, and life is never monotonous or slow when this exuberant girl is around. Always strikingly dressed, Judie is completely at ease whether on the basketball floor or at a formal dance. More fortunate than most high school seniors, our lively "Chasey" enjoyed a trip to Europe last fall. Lucky the patients that will someday have Judie as their cheerful nurse.

CHARLES FRANK CHECKMAN

"I would help others, out of a fellow-feeling."

We can well understand why Charlie likes American history so well, for he has his eyes set on a career in the service. He likes playing football or just reading the latest books. Whatever he does, he does so well that he will be welcome anywhere, especially as he is always ready to lend a helping hand.

NANCY LEE CHILDS

"A lass of charm, yet a keen mind withal."

A smooth, dark cap of hair, warm brown eyes, and a bright smile describe our Nance. She likes gay colors, and always wears clothes of the latest style. Interested in both music and athletics, she sings in both the Barnstable High Chorus and her church choir, and participates enthusiastically in several sports. Nancy, who has an aptitude and liking for Spanish, plans to teach that language after college.

CAROL MARIE COGGESHALL

"Gaiety is by far the best mood."

Gaiety is certainly one of Carol's outstanding and pleasing traits. A kind word, a cheery smile, and a pleasant "hello!"—all come naturally in any group where Carol is found. Along with gaiety, sincerity and friendliness are synonymous with her name. She enjoys cooking and sewing, and has taken Home Economics at Barnstable High. Success and happiness are sure to follow her in whatever field she may choose.

VITTORIA LOUISE COLONNA

"She could write and draw with ease and elegance."

If you see a rosy-cheeked young lady with a worldly air, moving about gracefully—no doubt it's Vicky. Much-envied for her exquisite complexion, she also demonstrates a decided flair for the artistic, not only in her paintings but in her stylish attire. The atmosphere of many dances has been enhanced by Vicky's clever decoration, and of course—by Vicky herself!

"Tall and well-proportioned, of great strength and activity."

Football, baseball, basketball, track—it seems no sport is too much for Chuck! Although he has only been with us since our junior year, Chuck has scored a real hit with all his classmates. As one of the more loquacious members of the class, he is never lacking for words or that subtle wit which, along with touchdowns and foul shots, have become his trademarks. Chuck's mathematical genius plus that infectious grin equals sure success.

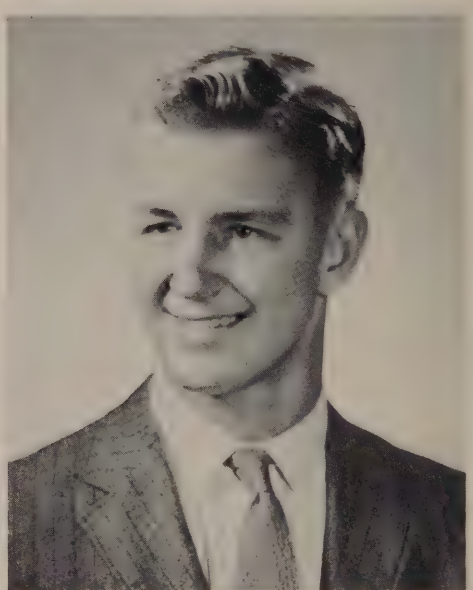
FRANCES JEAN DUCHESNEY

"Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?"

Pretty pink cheeks, naturally curly, soft brown hair, and a gentle, musical voice are just three of the traits which we immediately notice about Jean. Her favorite pastime telling jokes—makes her a very pleasant person to be around. Jeannie's ever-ready smile and friendly greeting are things which we look forward to when passing her in the hall. We certainly will be sorry to lose this likable classmate to New York after graduation.

Chorus 4; Bowling 2,3,4.



LEONARD ISMAY DUCHESNEY, JR.

"Endowed with a quantity of reason and ability."

An inquiring mind, a keen interest in sports, and a pleasant word for everyone are truly characteristic of Len. His genuine friendliness makes him a friend to everyone he meets. MARJORIE ANN MONTGOMERY

"Teach me half the gladness
That thy brain must know."

One of the busiest seniors in school, Marjie is usually seen zipping merrily along to some activity, her blond hair bobbing with each jaunty step. As co-editor of the Barnacle, vice-president of the Code Club, and a member of the chorus and the National Honor Society, our exuberant Marjie has distinguished herself as an efficient leader and reliable worker. Next fall will find our lively friend at Wheaton College.

SUZANNE EVELYN MORRISON

"This world belongs to the energetic."

A fashion plate become vigorously alive? No, that impeccably-groomed girl in the smart black outfit is lively Sue. Weekends usually find her giving or attending a party, where she dances to her favorite music—rock-and-roll and jazz. After graduation Sue intends to do office work in Hyannis, and plans to travel to New York or Washington.

PAUL GORDON NELSON, JR.

"A lover of truth and honour, frankness and courtesy."

Key Club president, soccer team co-captain, ace magazine seller, Massachusetts Boys' State representative—who else fits all these qualifications but happy-go-lucky Cy? The sunny summer months find him sailing around on Barnstable Harbor—while all his enthusiasm during the winter turns to ice hockey. But at any time of year wherever there's a party, there's bound to be the little Nelson jeep. Cy is endowed with quick wit, intelligence, and a unique personality.

KATHRYN MARIE NESE

"A wondrous warmth of spirit captivating all."

Sunshine, warm and bright, reminds us of Kathy, for who can keep his mind on dark troubles when faced with her understanding, optimism, and gay humor? At the Concession Committee, in chorus, at bowling, or in basketball practice, she is always on hand with a generous supply of diligence and energy. It's no wonder that her shining personality has won her so many friends.

WAYNE WILLIAM OEHME

"Motion he admires, swift moving objects."

Adding his sense of humor to the class of '59 is Wayne Oehme, who has an avid interest in cars and anything to do with them. Since he is taking the auto mechanics course, Wayne spends much of his spare time working with cars or talking about them and is a member of a hot rod club. He is also a good hunter and brings home many ducks. After graduation Wayne plans to study mechanical engineering.

INEZ GEORGINA O'NEIL

"I've laugh'd and danc'd and talk'd and sung."

Inez seems to derive great joy from living; active and full of fun, she enjoys both sports and social activities. In school, she has participated in basketball, softball, and field hockey. Her favorite "outside" activities are eating, dancing, and going to parties. But there is a more serious side to Inez, for after graduation she intends to study surgical nursing.

BETTY ANNE PENDLETON

"She had a very, very tender heart."

Happy were we to see Betty Anne return to Barnstable High this year. One of our well-known class equestrians, Betty Anne has won many prizes for her riding ability. Her hobbies include riding, training and showing horses. She even has a small stable of her own. Lucky Betty has seen quite a bit of the United States in her travels. This interesting senior plans to become a child psychologist.

MIRJA LIISA PERKKO

"She doeth little kindnesses which most leave undone."

Sweet, kind, thoughtful and cheerful—that's our Mirja. Usually found being nice, Mirja has a knack for making friends. She is envied for her two summers abroad in Finland, which she describes as "just plain wonderful." With her rosy cheeks and soft brown eyes Mirja is a familar figure bombing around in her Pontiac. If someone called out a breezy "Bonjour" or "Alons," it might well be Perk, because she plans to major in French at college. Bon chance, Mirja!

DONNA IRENE PIKNICK

"The mildest manners, and the gentlest heart."

Donna has the ingredients for a perfect "Piknick." She assures a bright day by her sunny personality and finds an ideal spot by a lake as sparkling as her eyes. Her blond hair gleams like the sun's rays as she runs across the field to play tennis, her favorite game. In the basket she carries many treats and to make the "piknick" complete she passes out red apples, the color of her rosy cheeks.

DAVID CLINTON PINA

"A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market."

Dave's witty comments have kept us laughing on many occasions, for a sense of humor is one of the things which most distinguish him. He also has a love for music, and can often be found at a lively jam session of the "Cyclones," an instrumental group of which he is a member. It is for these things, plus his stylish clothes, his excellent dancing, and most of all his talent for getting along with people, that we will remember Dave.

JOYCE LILLIAN REID

"Come, Mirth, be my companion."

A cheerful "Hi!" heard in the hall may well come from Joyce. This gay manner goes with her throughout the day, and she is usually found in friendly conversation with classmates. Home Economics is her favorite school subject, while swimming, dancing, and skating prevail in her leisure hours. Trips to many parts of the country, plus her love of travel have made her choose airline work for the future.

ROGER BURLINGAME REID

"Be fair—consider all possibilities."

The Navy, foremost in the future plans of this classmate, will provide a chance for one of Roger's favorite activities—travel. Other favorite pastimes—skating and swimming—provide year-round enjoyment for "Rog." He has used the training received in the Future Farmers of America group at Barnstable High in his summer job with a landscaping contractor. We wish Roger every success in his future plans.

Future Farmers of America 1.

JOHN LAWRENCE RHUDE

"Always we listened to his wise words."

To attend the Merchant Marine Academy is the prime ambition of Larry, who came to Barnstable High School from Quincy High School in his freshman year. His desire to enter the Merchant Marine Academy probably stems from his love of sailing. His biggest triumph in that field was being winner of the Cotuit Sailing Regatta. When the weather won't permit sailing, Larry enjoys track, a sport in which he has participated at Barnstable High School.

He is now a student in the boatbuilding course and plans to carry this training on by working for Crosby's Boat Yard. Hockey 3,4.

WALTER FRANCIS RODIN

"He was ever precise in promise-keeping."

A quart of mischief subtracted from a pint of temper multiplied by a pleasing personality and divided by an easy-going attitude equals Walter Rodin. Walt always stands out in a crowd—not only because he is six feet three inches tall, but also because he has that certain something that enables him to mix with any group combined with the dignity to lead it well. His industrious nature has been ably demonstrated by his cheerful help on the concession committee.

CHARLES ARTHUR ROSARY

"High erected thoughts seated in the heart of courtesy."

Courteous, polite, and willing, exactly describe the mannerisms of Charlie Rosary. Throughout high school Charlie has been an industrious and aggressive worker always ready to help in any way he could. He has been an excellent student in the plumbing course in the Trade School and a tireless worker for the class, especially in getting ads for the Barnacle. Charlie was also an outstanding member in the Key Club.

Here and there and everywhere is a good description of Susie. She zips through corridors with sprightly step and a pixie-like smile to her many activities which range from French Club of which she is President to a practice session for the majorettes. Her gifts are three-fold: intelligence—she is a member of the National Honor Society; beauty—Sue was a member of the court at the Junior Prom; and efficiency—she is a must on any committee from the Freshman Frolic to the Barnacle Advertising Staff.

The Revelation

"We met Merlin and asked him if these things were truth."

The Revelation

We, Jeannie, Bonnie, and Marie, had been seated at our Round Table wishing for a means of foretelling the future, when suddenly, with a gust of wind, a bright flash of fire, and a mysterious vaporous cloud, there appeared before us the awe-inspiring figure of Merlin. With a quick wave of his hand this mysterious wizard of King Arthur's Court swept away the swirling mist which guards things to come from mortal eyes in order to reveal to us the future of the Class of 1959. Behold what is revealed!

The smoke clears, and at first it seems as if we are in a crowd watching a ticker tape parade. We move in closer and see Charlie Checkman driving an open convertible, and in it is the President of the United States, Cy Nelson. It's certainly a big occasion! The armed services are represented—there, in Air Force blue, we see our old classmates John Dutra, Billy White, Bob Williams, Gordon Pyy, J. P. Webb, and Charlie Doane. From the tenth floor of a skyscraper, businessman Michel Ozon, and his private secretary, Sally Holmes, are throwing out ticker tape to the street below. In the same building is another business tycoon, Kevin O'Neil, with secretaries, Nancy LaPrade and Carol Chapman. One of his best saleswomen is June Cornwell whom we remember as doing so well on our advertising staff. Nearby, Merlin sees Nancy Stiles reporting on the parade on a live television show for C.B.S. Ace reporter, Louise Whiteley, is writing a feature story about the occasion.

Accompanying the president are Lennie Duchesney, Supreme Court Judge, and the brilliant young lawyer, Toivo Lamminen. As the presidential party goes slowly by, we hear the sound of a band and see band members John McPherson on the drums, Bobby Jones on the trumpet, and Barbara Santos playing the clarinet. In another car we see Ambassador Susan Stein, who has just been voted outstanding personality of the year by Look Magazine. Merlin tells us that missing from the parade are Marine Captains, Ed Smith and Barney Baxter who are ill. Nurses Joyce Arlington, Donna Piknick, Marion Lahteine, and Maureen Aylmer are soothing their fevered brows. Also missing from these festivities are the presidential secretaries, Marcia Perry and Barbara Phillips who are on vacation taking a cross-country trip in their new convertible.

The parade ends but Merlin remains in New York to show us around, and whom do we see but Linda Wolsieffer, editor of Vogue, who has just shocked women of America by naming purple the fashion color of the year! With her is Marjorie Montgomery, head model of this fashion magazine. Also in the journalism field is Chuck Converse who has taken over Walter Winchell's gossip column. In the entertainment business we see Sheila Lawlor teaching dancing to young starlets. One of these is Susan Sherman, who is preparing to go on the Arthur Murray Dance Party on television. David Pina, Larry Harman, and Sue Morrison are dancers on this show. Also on the program are Robert Nixon, comedian, and Dan Wright, who plays the guitar. Mary Louise Savery and Kathy Kearney have designed the scenery for this and many other top shows. Betsy Savage, Marsha Lord, and Margie Cotell will also be shown on television as the finalists in the National Pillsbury Baking Contest.

Brought to New York for a spectacular on sports are Peter Vendt and George Williams of the Boston Celtics basketball team and Walter Rodin and Raymond Richard, stars on an award-winning ice hockey team. Also in New York is Herb Dwyer who has his own laboratory and is working on a new science project with assistants Mary Shepard and Charles Rosary. He is looking through his telescope at Dave Lewis who is stranded on some planet after taking an unexpected trip in his rocket and running out of gas (we seem to remember a slightly similar experience in 1958). Merlin finally decides to change the scene, but just before the picture fades, we see Phil Steere testing mattresses in Macy's window!

The smoke rises, and through the fading mist we see yet another picture. A plane is flying madly through the sky above the Atlantic enroute to Europe. "Whoever is flying that plane is certainly a daredevil!" we exclaim. And suddenly we realize it could be no one else but David Henault and Norm McGill up to their old zany antics! Inside the plane, stewardess Joyce Reid, is trying to calm the passengers. We recognize Judy Chase on her way to the Brussels World Fair and Frannie Walls, United States boxing champion, going to England to fight the British champ. With him is Erlene Field, his manager. Kathy Nese is also on board after winning a trip on The Price is Right program. Jean Duchesney is going to Ireland after winning the Irish Sweepstakes. We follow the plane into Paris and see Judy Askew and Virginia Baker, recently married to millionaires, selecting new gowns at Nancy Childs' Dress Salon, modeled by Jeannie VanLeeuwen. Brenda Atwood is in Paris, too, finishing her latest painting to be put in the Louvre. Bonnie Pooler is also in France opening the first international Stop and Shop, managed by Bill Marshall. She has been aided in the business transaction by the ambassador to France, Mirja Perkko. Joyce McNutt and Barbara Barnard are also working at the embassy as interpreters.

From Paris to Rome—and we see Ginny Alvin, archaeologist, rummaging for rocks at the Colosseum. We also see Steve Lahteine, playboy, basking in the sun surrounded by an admiring group of Italian "lovelies."

From here Merlin says he will take us to our home town of Hyannis, but first we will stop off at California. We see Vicki Colonna in Hollywood sketching film luminaries at the Brown Derby. One of her customers is Jay Braxton, the new singing sensation. Vicki is also just completing a sketch of Barry Hallett who is the star of the latest musical. Leaving Hollywood, we go to a different part of California and see Barbara Hart marching at the Rose Bowl Parade. Sandy Hirsch is seen cheering on Pete Stringer's team with football stars Pete Brune, John McGillen, and Pete Larkin. Also in California are Isabel Hunter, Betty Anne Pendleton, and Penny Straker who own a large number of horses. A great help to them is veterinarian Arlene Frazier.

The picture fades again, and we see our own town of Hyannis. We, of course, meet quite a few of its prominent citizens. Stanley Doane is the supervisor of the highways on the Cape; Donna Hadfield, manager of the fountain at Woolworth's; Gail McManus and Dotty Thomas, co-owners of Turner's; and Pauline West, owner of Endicott and Johnson's Shoe Store. Bruce Jussila is also successful on the Cape, as he owns a number of cranberry bogs. Linda Cayouette now owns her own beauty parlor and Merlin sees her in the process of dying Marie Lazard's hair platinum blonde (Marie finally got the nerve after all these years!) Clark Hallett and Tommy Gifford have just received awards for their great skill in hunting and marksmanship. Wayne McGann, national president of the Continental Car Club, has his offices in Hyannis. Gordon VanBuren, electrician, and Barry McCabe, carpenter, now work together as contractors. Rennie Adams is running his father's garage with Pete Thurston and Wayne Oehme. They are presently working on a new racing car for Maureen Flanagan, who is planning to enter the Minneapolis Derby Race. Maureen Linehan is principal of the Hyannis Elementary School. Other teachers are Audrey MacAulay and Mary Walsh. Elaine Pierce is the girl's coach at the high school. Inez O'Neil is school doctor and Patsy Lovejoy, guidance counselor. We see also that Phoebe Cook now runs a nursery. Phoebe is helped by teachers Anne Beldan and Naureen Flynn. We see Carol Coggeshall, Rosalie DeGrace, and Bertha Gonsalves picking up their children at the nursery. Finally, at the beach we see Charlie Verkade and Roger Reid building and racing speed boats. We see, also, Bill Southworth, who is competing in the Cup Races, sailing the new sailboat entered by the United States with mates John Linnell and Larry Rhude. The picture fades—our futures have been revealed; and then, before we can say a word, Merlin, the enchanter, disappears before our eyes.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club is an international service organization for high school boys who are outstanding in leadership, initiative, responsibility, and citizenship. Under the able direction of President Gordon Nelson this club is now one of the top clubs in New England. One of their most successful projects was the weekly Saturday night stag dances held in the Maritime Building.

Front: T. Bowes, S. Hirsch, N. Stiles, L. Wolsieffer, Miss Haggerty, J. Askew, president; M. Montgomery, M. Murray, M. Perkko, M. Linehan.

CODE CLUB

The Code Club, which is a girls' service organization with the same ideals as the Key Club, has been one of the school's most active groups. Their first activity was a dance, the proceeds of which were donated to the Library Fund at a tea held by them for the teachers. The group sponsored two school assemblies—one on etiquette, and one on proper dress—and visited rest homes and the hospitals in the community.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is made up of students who have achieved outstanding academic records during their high school years.

In order to become a member of this society a student must have a grade of A in at least seventy-five percent of his major subjects.

The purpose of the club is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage good character development in the students.

The club is under the direction of M.. John J. Kilcoyne.

STUDENT COUNCIL

When there was trouble in the days of old, it was brought to the Round Table for King Arthur and his knights to settle. Now, when things are amiss at Barnstable High School, they are brought to the Student Council for consideration. No problem is too small—from new uniforms for the cheerleaders to sponsoring pep rallies for the basketball teams.

BARNACLE

The royal scribes and heralds of the Barnacle have worked to record the crusades of the last four years with a threefold purpose—to keep alive a spark of remembrance of the past, to reveal the aims and goals of the present, and to instill initiative to attain perfection in the future. The literary staff has called upon the magic powers of Merlin to relate all the significant deeds of the past, present, and future lives of the worthy subjects of the senior class. These revelations have been put into script by the loyal typing staff. The pomp and flourish of knighthood has been captured by the art staff and recreated in this yearbook. With the assistance of the heralds who gained the financial assistance, the Barnacle has been set in the background of the golden age of chivalry.

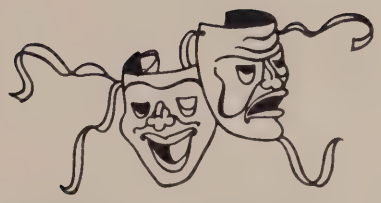
DRAMATIC CLUB



In the days of chivalry those who were interested in drama attended a good miracle or morality play, but nowadays Barnstable High students with the same interests join the Dramatic Club, which has Mr. Elliot B. MacSwan as advisor.

Although it is only in its second year, the Club has 104 members, all of whom are enthusiastic about the theater. The club has produced one highly successful play this year, Sunday Costs Five Pesos, and will probably present another before the year is over.

The cast of Sunday Costs Five Pesos included Brenda Atwood, Mary Braun, Vittoria Colonna, Judy Duarte, and Gillette Alvin.

ORCHESTRA

This group of eighteen musicians under the baton of their energetic director, Simon Gesin, have, as in years before, blended melodies for some of our assemblies. They have accompanied the chorus in presenting a Christmas and later an Easter program. Through these programs the orchestra has brought better understanding and appreciation of standard and classical music to students, faculty, and parents.

However, the seniors will remember the orchestra most for its playing at their graduation.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Future Farmers of America, under the direction of Mr. Arnold Rogean, is an organization composed of boys who are interested in agriculture. The purpose of the club is to improve farming methods and to acquaint the boys with the problems of farming.

This year the boys made small plants and put them in each homeroom for the Christmas season. This spring they plan to work on the school grounds.

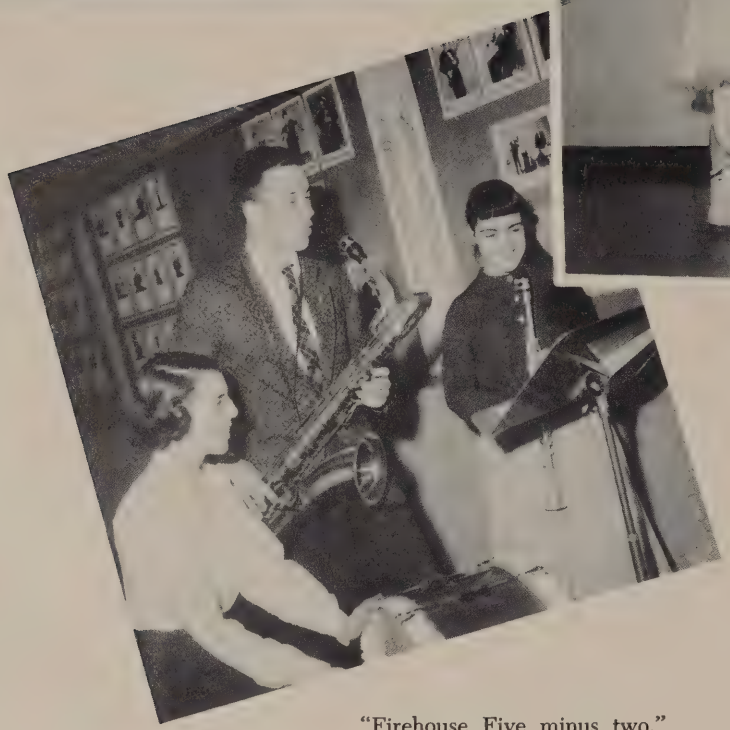
BAND

"Here we go again!"



"Firehouse Five minus two."

As usual the band showed its gay colors and spirits everywhere. Under the direction of Simon G. Gesin and the leadership of the majorettes, its members played in the Veterans' Day, Santa Claus, and Memorial Day parades. The group sparked some of our assemblies and rallies with many school favorites. But its greatest success was at the football games where it encouraged and cheered our team on to the goal posts. Our band will be remembered for its eager and faithful spirit.

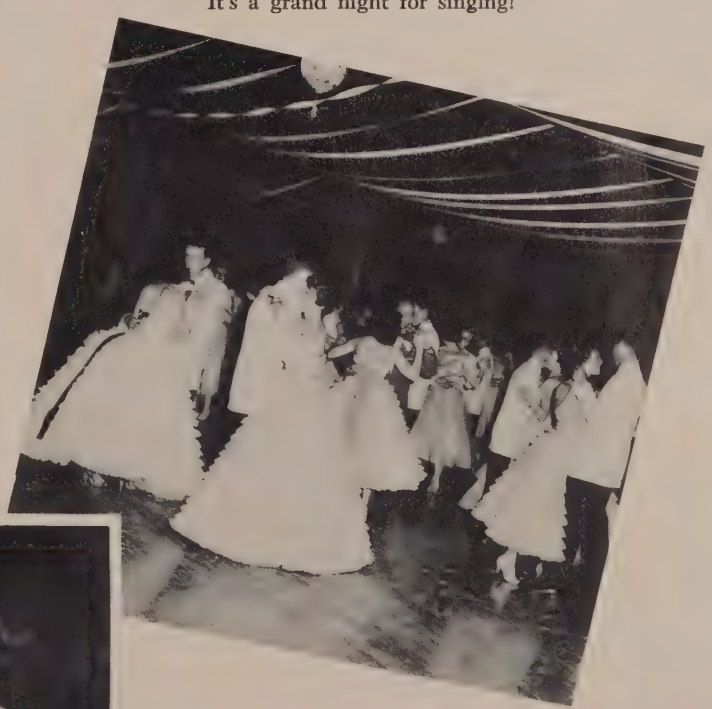
"Youth Sings" and so it did. Simon Gesin skillfully directed this group of juniors and seniors. With new voices, especially in the bass section, the chorus increased its membership this year. Seventy-five singers caroled at the skating rink before Christmas. A spring program was also presented for the entertainment of all students and their parents.

The Girls' Special Chorus, comprised of twenty junior and senior girls, added spice to the programs with a cappella singing.

"It's a grand night for singing!"



"Music, maestro, please!"

Back: S. Stein, C. Converse, G. Nelson, G. Williams, B. Pooler.

The Raid-ius, the Barnstable High School news page in the Patriot, celebrated its second year of print under the able leadership of Mrs. Catherine D. Towey. This page, written by the journalism class, brought editorials, features, and news articles about school events to B.H.S. students and other interested townspeople.

The Raid-ius afforded the 16 seniors in the journalism class an opportunity to practice the many journalistic skills they had learned, and to actually "see themselves in print!"

FRENCH CLUB

"Sur le pont d'Avignon . . ."

The French Club, with Miss Amelia Leconte as the advisor, is organized for the benefit of any student who has had at least one year of French study.

The purpose of the club is to familiarize the members with the geography, customs, language, and living conditions of France.

At the meetings the students learn French songs, folk dances, games, and they put on short plays in French. Also they have been receiving a magazine, "La Revue Des Gens", which contains short stories, puzzles, and games.

Miss Leconte has told several interesting stories concerning her travels in France.

Front: Mr. Welch, P. Thurston, B. McCabe, P. Butler, R. Richards, Mr. Cameron.
Back: R. Paine, N. Atwood, J. Miller, G. Pyy, W. Oehme, M. Ozon.

TRADE SCHOOL

The Barnstable Trade School is open to boys from all Cape towns who wish instruction in the five fields of carpentry, boat building, plumbing, electrical work, and auto mechanics.

The Trade School has its own student council with Mr. Robert Welch and Mr. Frederick Cameron as advisors. Council officers were Barry McCabe, president; Peter Thurston, vice president; and John Miller, secretary. Michel Ozon was representative to the Barnstable High School Student Council.

"Where's the wrench?"

"No wonder this won't run!"

FOOTBALL

A newcomer to Barnstable, Coach John Hughes, took over the reins of the Raider football team this year. With assistant coaches John Donahue and Dwight Coggeshall, he busily set to the task of introducing a new system and fashioning a smooth working unit to face the rugged schedule.

Coach Hughes soon found the going rough with the loss of key players, through injuries, and the lack of depth. However, Co-captains Leonard Duchesney and David Lewis, and backfield men Chuck Converse and Peter Larkin kept the team going through a rather rough and discouraging season.

Highlights of the season were victories over Hingham and Canton; the selection of David Lewis and Peter Larkin on the honorable mention All-State Team; and the selection of Peter Brune, out most of the season with injuries, as an All-Cape Tackle.

The outlook for next season is a bit brighter, with the return of fourteen lettermen led by Co-captains Bruce Woodruff and William Dow.

"Who took that ball?"

"Woodruff breaks through Falmouth defense."

SOCCER

With a few lettermen returning, Coach Howes fashioned his green candidates into a smoothly operating machine by the time the season started. The boys were after the championship this year and showed it by winning their first two games. After winning three and tying two of its next five games, the team was undefeated in seven games and tied for first place with Orleans. The team's decline started at Chatham where the Raiders lost a nip and tuck battle. They proceeded to lose the next two also, but finished in third place in the league.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Under the leadership of Coach John Hughes a squad of twenty boys began work in late November in hopes of molding a fine basketball team. The team's chances were hampered the first day of practice by the loss of veterans Bill Phillips and Chuck Converse.

Despite this handicap, the team, after losing five straight, bounced back with a sparkling victory over Provincetown. This was the beginning of a winning streak for the Raiders as they captured successive victories over Falmouth and rival Dennis-Yamouth.

Led by their able captain George Williams, the Raiders faced Bourne in a deciding clash for the large schools championship. After losing a heart-breaker to Bourne, Barnstable suffered defeats at the hands of Chatham and Harwich.

The spirited Raiders came back against Provincetown with a decisive win and then suffered three straight losses. The season ended on a cheerful note with the Raiders defeating a highly-ranked Harwich team.

Wes Ward was elected the captain of next year's team at the close of the season.

Larkin ups the Raiders' score!

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The girls' basketball team has had a very successful season this year. Starting with a young team of juniors and sophomores, Miss Nehubian shaped the girls into a winning team through tireless practice in passing, shooting, and rebounding. Their well-coordinated passwork, their perfected shooting, their domination on the backboards, and their invincible defense led the way to indisputable glory. Their first game, which was played against Provincetown on a visiting court, proved to be the only loss of the season against eleven victories. At a total of 574 points for the season, they scored an average of 48 points a game. As the winners of the large school rival, Sandwich, they won a smashing victory to cap the championship by a score of 44 to 29. We heartily sing the praises of our girls' basketball team.

Victory smiles for Mascot Kathy Pooler, Coach Kay Nehubian, and Captain Terry Bowes.

CHEERLEADERS

This year the cheerleaders, under the direction of Mrs. Camille Beale, did an outstanding job. In their bright red and white uniforms, the girls looked very pert and peppy.

The squad was led by co-captains Sandra Hirsch and Phoebe Cook, who deserve much credit for a job well done.

"Get those kinks out, girls!"

What kind of flower will this make?

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club, composed of students who had won their letters in the various sports and activities, was sponsored by Mr. Shields this year to help arouse school spirit. Members wore their white sweaters to school every Friday.

ICE HOCKEY

Under the direction of Coaches Elliott MacSwan and John Donahue, Barnstable launched its first season of ice hockey. An intramural league of four teams was formed; and from this, an all-star team was chosen to play other schools. This team played the first Cape Interscholastic Hockey game against Gloucester, losing 4-1. Coach MacSwan hopes that this will lead to an organized league.

The girls' field hockey team has had a victorious season this year even though they had to work under adverse conditions. Each day they had to travel back and forth between the high school and the junior high for practice. Not in the least discouraged, the girls were not only undefeated but unscored on in their six games. We feel justified in being proud of this team and of their coach, Miss Kay Nehubian.
